Report on the program SHE for HER-II

SHE Teams Rachakonda Police organised a program named SHE for HER-II at IICT, Hyderabad on 20-12-2017. Dr V.S. Triveni and four more members with of WPC attended the program.

M. Mahender Reddy (IPS) who is the Director General of police, Telangana addressed the gathering. He expressed his views on women safety and also expresses the role of police, people and role of educational institutions in society. Women safety and child safety both are important for healthy society. To improve the women and child safety, the educational institutions should play important role. In this M. Mahender Reddy (IPS) advised to work in safety clubs in association with NGO's to improve thinking of student, faculty about respect towards women, gender equality in our society. All principals and HoD's of colleges are advised to encourage public safety clubs to reach expectations of police department. SHE team officer gave a speech on safety measures to women and girl students if they go out late in the evening/night and gave helpline numbers if any difficult situations arise. She advised all women should be strong physically and mentally.

SHE TEAMS ensures the safety of women in Telangana State and they strive to live by following promises:

- Curbing sexual harassment of women in public places (Eve Teasing)
- Nabbing offenders harassing women through phone calls, messages, emails and social media platforms.
- Helping women to get immediate police support and ensure their safe travel through "HAWK EYE" application.
- Acting as a deterrent force to stop serious crime on women by nipping the problem in the bud.
- Correcting miss-guided youth by counselling them professionally towards becoming responsible citizens and keeping them under observation.
- Creating awareness among women regarding their rights and the various platforms by which they can reach SHE teams.
