Event-1 :WAR- EVALUATION

-by Srija Vakiti (a peasant TM of NEN)

Date: 14/6/2021

Video link: <https://app.fireflies.ai/view/Nen::U2yFu41iHo>

Team 1- Abhilash (3/5) vs. Narsimha (2.5/5): Good start, but didn't have much content. N kept fumbling while A uttered the same point in 100 different ways. Other 2 members were absent.

Team 2- Tarun (3/5) vs. Vaishnavi (4.5/5): Good pace, both the parties showed enthusiasm and had lots of content to show-off. V did very well- timed roasts which didn't go beyond the line compared with a sarcastic tone at all the right places. It was the timely-delivery and clear confidence for me. T backed it well and kept his ground without going completely speechless. Enjoyed the roast. Would go for it again.

Team 3- Sai Ganesh (3.5/5) vs. Keerthana (3/5): Decent job. G made a lot of logical points while K kept up the energetic atmosphere. Sometimes, enthusiasm was placed wrongly. The words "stupid" and "useless" were used a lot and sometimes that was the only thing that was heard. Overall, an admirable attempt.

Team 4- Sreemanth (2.5/5), Bhargav(2/5), Shivani(3/5) and Sai Kalyan(2.5/5): The only original group with all of its 4 members present so great teamwork right there. Shivani, though she screamed a lot, did her best to stand her ground and attacked well. Great defence from Sreemanth and Kalyan. Bhargav didn't make many valid points except trying to interrupt the other party as they spoke. Overall, the group showed adequate effort.

Team 5- Jahnvi (2.5/5), Hemanth Reddy (2.5/5): A battle of equals. Both the candidates did a great job of preserving the balance of the roast. The content could be a bit more to be honest. Nothing more to say. Quite average, like a slice-of-life anime. Other participants were absent.

Team 6- Rafiq (3.2/5) vs. Hemanth (2/5): Both the parties were enthusiastic so points for that. It was clear who was the winner with R being so forward though he could turn down the provocative comments and the huuuhhs. At a certain point, it was the same facts going round and round without any substantial content. An okay roast.

Team 7-Prathima (2.2/5) vs. Yamini (2.5/5): Good job at trying to logical. It was clear that both the parties didn't know much about the stance they were representing. Points were made but there was no confidence and flavour to the roast. Nothing much to say in conclusion.

Team 8- Vinay (2.5/5) vs. Junaid (1.7/5): Kuch bhi karega for candyman type of content. Except that candyman is TRP here. J misunderstood roast for bullying and turned the session sour. It was definitely entertaining in the beginning but as the word "loser" started popping up as often as a pimple in the life of a hormonal teen in his kishoravastha, it turned awry. V got too emotional like a wife asking for alimony before her drunkard husband who doesn't take stuff seriously. J didn't bother to read the atmosphere and went as he wished to. Low-key felt like bullying. This roast was supposed to be wellarticulated but it slowly turned into a punching bag session. Overall, it was like getting catfished. Meh, not a fan.

Team9- Tanmay (3.5/5) and Divya (3.2/5) vs. Hency (3.5/5) and Shailendra (3/5): Felt like I was at a neighbourhood tiffin centre (in a good way). Both parties did a great job at going forward and not backing down. Both the ladies were excellent. Shailendra did well fanning the flames of the roast while Tanmay made sure there wasn't any awkward silence left. Points for effort.

Team 10- Hema (3.5/5), Priyanka (3/5), Roshan (3.5/5) and Abid Hussain (2/5): If A's aim was to showcase his ninja skills, then I'm impressed. His presence was hardly felt. P made one-shot points that could be contemplated on. Unfortunately, she didn't make many points. R and H made sure the audience was absorbed. It was the Kabhi Khushi Kabhi Gham and Sooryavansham vibes for me. Excellent bursting out with lots of tenor. Good points were made on both sides. Neither of the parties wanted to lose. Overall excellent drama. My ears are still ringing.

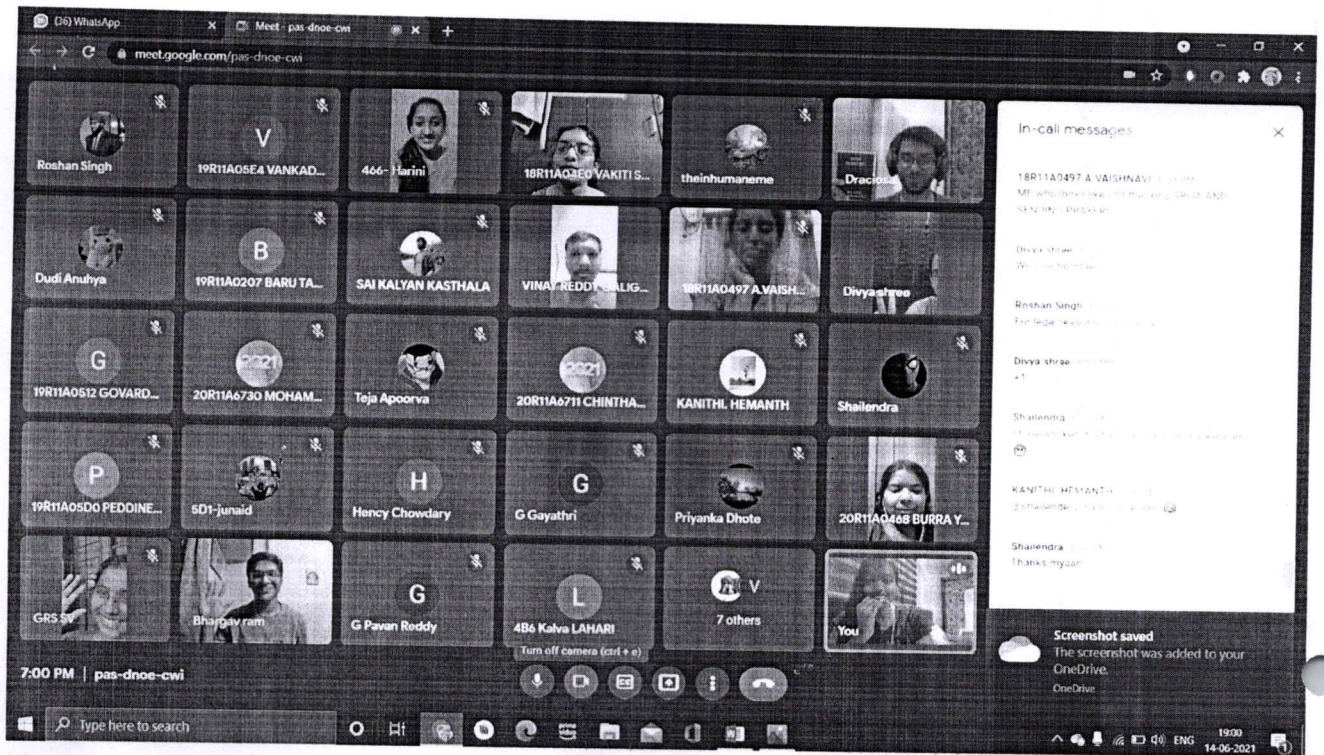

Team 11- Gayatri (3/5), Harini (3/5), Srividya (3/5): Great work. The roasts were consistent and there weren't any awkward silences. G took both H and S on like a champ. Could have toned down the INDIA WANTS TO KNOW level screaming. Lots of examples were used. Content of the roast was adequate but the delivery was good. A noticeable effort.

Team 12- Rehman (2.5/5) vs. Kalyan (2/5): Good content, bad context. The starting was like a youtube video with lots of info. It was evident that R did his best to showcase his skills but K didn't have much content to offer so that kinda hindered R. An okay effort (pls don't remove me from NEN).

Team 13- Divya (3.5/5), Prerana (4/5), Kalva (3/5) and Lahari (2.5/5): It was a good show. P and D were pleasantly competitive and lively. It was fun watching one party try to dig up dirt on the other. P and D did a good job making the audience believe that they actually had bad blood. Good content and delivery. It was healthy competition. A fitting end to the event.

Event-6:CEO's GOT TALENT

The event was conducted online on 16th June, 2021 from 7:00-9:00pm. It was an open mike event wherein all the participants showcased their special talents.

The main objective of the event was to provide students with an opportunity to exhibit their talents, helping them improve their creativity, spontaneity and most of all boost their self-confidence.

The event had 19 participants along with around 30 members who joined to watch and encourage the contestants. Participants took up various activities such as Singing, dancing, storytelling, poetry, Standup comedy and Dialogue ...

1.Priya Spandana Mendu performed two English songs and had a truly booming voice and bags of character in her tone. She swayed all the people present in the event which undoubtedly gave her an edge over the other participants so was the perfect choice for the winner.

Points- 10

2.Lasya Priya enticed us with her soothing voice and had great vocals. Her style of singing proved to be as good as a professional which made her the winner.

Points-10

PRINCIPAL
 Geethanjali College of Engg. and Tech.
 Cheeryal (V), Keesara (M), Medchal Dist.(T.S.)-501 301.

3. Ananya had some real narrative skills and was oozing with energy. She perfectly made us of the option of presenting the screen during the narration. Her unique and creative which made her the runner-up of the event.

Points- 9

4. Sushma.Ch was the only participant who performed dance and her moves were really graceful and had great timing. Her performance filled the event with energy.

Points- 8

5. Sai Nithin had the great energy and few of his notes really amazed us. But he somewhere couldn't compete with our top participants.

Points-8

6. VA. Tanmai was the only participant who showcased three different talents. She first performed storytelling, then singing followed by a dubbed act. She pretty much impressed us all by her multiple talents.

Points-8

7. Aryan performed two activities which included poetry and singing, though his poetry did not have an awe-point his singing did.

Points-8

8. Shravani Reddy had a very smooth voice and some great wavelength and was definitely one of the contenders of the event.

Points-8

9. Saketh was a tough competition to Ananya with his great storytelling skills and presented his story really well.

Points-7

10. Ruchitha had great voice and sang well but seemed underconfident.

Points- 7

11. Sony had great narrative skills but her length of story was too long for the event which made us lose interest in her performance.

Points-6.5

12. Madhuri performed a short story with good narrative skills.

PRINCIPAL
Geethanjali College of Engg. and Tech.
Bheerayal (V), Keeravani (M), Medchal Dist. (T.S.)-501 301.

Points-6

13. Siddanth's standup comedy was impressive but wasn't that funny. He later performed a short poem.

Points-6.5

14. Shalini put up a great performance but there were technical issues which denied her from being one of the top participants.

Points-6

15. Lakshmi Shreya narrated a poem. Her poem was good but her narrative kills lacked grit.

Points- 5.5

16. Uttej performed a monologue from a movie and later sang a song.

Points-6

17. Sai Prakash- Kudos to his rap. He performed pretty nonchalantly.

Points- 7

Rehman and Roshan, the EL's of NEN participated in the event and amazed us all with their poetic skills.

Winners- Priya Spandana Mendu

Lasya Priya

Runner-up- Ananya

Event-9: Product mania Evaluation

Date: 18/6/2021

Evaluation

Jessica (4/5) : Good start but later slowed down a little bit. Good use of words to explain about the product. Was a bit convincing to buy the product

Snehitha (3/5) : Starting was not so great, but in between she could catch up well. There were more repeated sentences. It wasn't really convincing to buy the product Sushmitha (2.5/5) : Start was ok. Same usage of words. Was really low in between.

Rehman (3.5/5) : Good explanation about the product . Well convincing to buy.

Kalyan (3/5) : Good product description , tried hard to explain about the product , in between he took it well and it was convincing to buy

Sai prakash (4.5/5) : Great start. The product was very well described . Pitch was great. Had really valid point. Was very much convincing to buy.

Rithika(2.5/5) : Explanation was good. Different approach of selling the product . Over all good but could be better but it was convincing to buy

Harsha (2/5) : Not a great start. Used too many repeated sentences. Not much convincing

Shravani(2/5) : Used too many same words. Not many points were explained. Not convincing

Nikhil(3.5/5) : Good explanation . Start was good but slowed down later and could manage at end.(extra point for taking initiative)

Subrahmanyam (3.5/5) : Good start , well explained but few repeated sentences , good convincing strategies

Meghana (3/5) : Good at the beginning but pitch went down later , a few repeated sentences but over all convincing

Aqsa (3/5) : Good

Priyanka (3.5/5) : Good start , didn't use many points but was convincing in what she explained

Lasya (2.5/5) : Very less content. Should have spoken a bit more.

Sell me something new Each participant will be asked to pick a random number between a certain range. The number will correspond to a particular item and respective budget. The participant has to make customizations to the item to win the game. There are 2 criteria for this: 1. After customization, the item must be contained within the designated budget. 2. The overall idea must impress the panel of investors. Example: Range of numbers-1 to 10. Participant X picks the number 6. 6 corresponds to- CANDLES. Budget: each candle must come under 150 rupees. X can make customizations such as the following- ->The candles upon melting, reveal a gift/ an item of faux jewelry/ a money note ranging from 10 rupees to thousand rupees. ->The candle can be scented so as to help cigarette addicts, etc.

In the second of agreements and negotiations they showcased immense thoughtfulness towards what actually the opposite company is in need of and have shown how well they can profit themselves along with our company. Instead of buying out the whole company they are trying to help us and are taking a minimal amount of our company which allows them to sit on the board members list. This helps our company and their company as well because they are technically collaborating with their competition.

POTTER HEADS

The event was conducted online on 19th June, 2021 from 7-9pm. The event consisted of three rounds: Poster designing, Quiz, Sales pitching. We had around 25 participants.

Poster Designing-

This was the 1st round of the event wherein four topics namely Clay mask, Gym, Multivitamin supplements, Multicuisine restaurant. Participants were given 30 mins to create the posters and everyone came up with creative ideas and designs in time. We received around 15 submissions and every poster was unique and creative.

Quiz-

A quiz consisting of 10 questions based on naming famous business tycoons, logos and slogans of well-known brands were asked. It was conducted on an online quiz platform called Quizizz. Each question had a time limit of 30 seconds. All the participants took part in it actively.

Rahman, Vishwambhar, Ashika, Prerana and Charith were the top 5 on the leaderboard of the quiz.

Sales pitching-

Top 10 participants from the leaderboard of quiz were selected for the last round where in two of them were given a situation and one among them was the salesman and the other a customer. The salesman had to convince the customer to buy the product in that given situation likewise the customer had to oppose with logic. Everyone came up with tactful conversations and the round was fun and interactive.

One of the situations given was to sell an Air conditioner to a person who lived in Shimla where the temperature is usually almost zero.

Charith, Junaid, Roshan, Rehman did exceedingly well in this round.

DESPERATE DOCUMENTATION- EVALUATION

1) Rafiq: Cadbury Bytes

The intro was brief and was followed by the reasons for product failure. The candidate has a good pace and stuck to the time limit. His strategies were clever, pragmatic and efficient. The marketing stats were taken into consideration and the presentation was an overall success. 56% of the document was plagiarised, however the solutions were 100% original and showed a zero plagiarism rate. Job was wrapped up well.

2) Roshan: Kingfisher Beer

Sme

PRINCIPAL
Geethanjali College of Engg. and Tech.
Cheerayal (V), Keecara (M), Medchal Dist. (T.S.)-501 001.

The explanation was energetic and managed to grab the audience's attention. However, too much of time was spent on analysing the intention of the owner rather than focusing on the product. Socio-economic statistics were taken into consideration but the presentation soon went off-track with something else. Despite the 16% plagiarism of the document, all solutions were completely original and had substance. Nevertheless, the time taken was too much to ignore and ended up having an impact on the evaluation of the candidate. Focusing on the crux of the issue, rather than its political background would have fetched a greater score.

3) Rehman: Pepsi Crystal

The document was well-arranged and the explanation lacked no detail. However, the presentation was too long and thus, the candidate was not able to round it up well. Lots of points were taken into consideration in order to develop the strategies. The document had a 21% plagiarism rate which thankfully did not involve the solutions proposed. The solutions mentioned were witty and rational. Unfortunately, the candidate (who had a lot of potential) was way over the time limit, making its impact on the evaluation inevitable.

4) Harsha: Micromax mobiles

Brief introduction and explanation about the product's failure. Candidate managed to keep the goal of the competition in mind and tackled each drawback directly. There was no redundancy or jargon in the presentation. The budget he managed to put together added to the timely performance made it a very pleasant and informative presentation. The document had a very less plagiarism rate of 7% with 100% original solutions. Good conclusion too. Overall, a job well done.

5) Veena Vani: Aircel

The introduction was too long. However, the simple explanation of the product's failure in market made the listening a breeze. Good solutions with an efficient marketing scheme. Despite the 42% plagiarism rate, the candidate managed to come up with 100% original solutions. However, these solutions were scanty and had some loopholes. The conclusion was rounded well. Overall, an adequate effort.

6) Ananya: Nokia

It was the GirlBoss vibes for me. The brief intro and simple explanation of details, combined with the great voice and enunciation made the presentation very professional. The candidate managed to finish their presentation in time. If there has to be any complaint, the focus on drawbacks was more than necessary. However, the grounded explanation and the shrewd strategies that the presentation highlighted managed to make an interesting take on the ethics one exercised/ relaxed in a dire situation. The document was well-arranged but was long and had a 71% plagiarism rate; however the solutions derived from the references were smart, original and well-made. The conclusion was abrupt. Overall, a very interesting presentation.

7) Priyanka: Harley Davidson Perfume

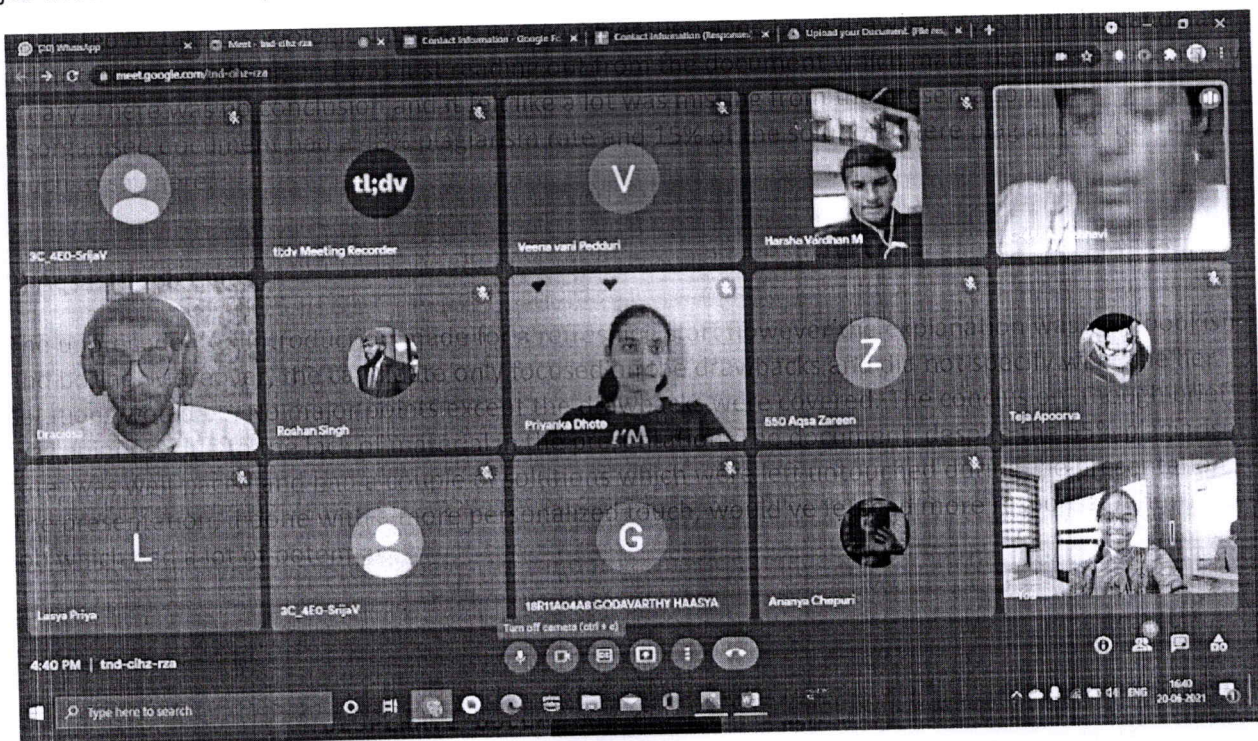

The intro has a good length and the solutions were reasonable. However, there was no conclusion to the topic and the market strategies, despite their rationality, lacked originality and were pretty shallow. Not a lot of facts were taken into consideration. Time constraint was managed well. The document, with a 25% plagiarism rate, was a short and easy read with original solutions. Nothing much to say more than that. Overall, an adequate performance.

8) Lasya: Danone Curd

The introduction was too long however the smooth transitions made it easy on the ears. Strategies were suggested by taking sociological impacts into consideration. One huge drawback was that the candidate did not explain anything and was just reading out from the document which made the presentation very dreary. There was no conclusion and it felt like a lot was missing from the presentation. The disorganised document had a 48% plagiarism rate and 15% of the solutions were plagiarised. Nothing much to say here.

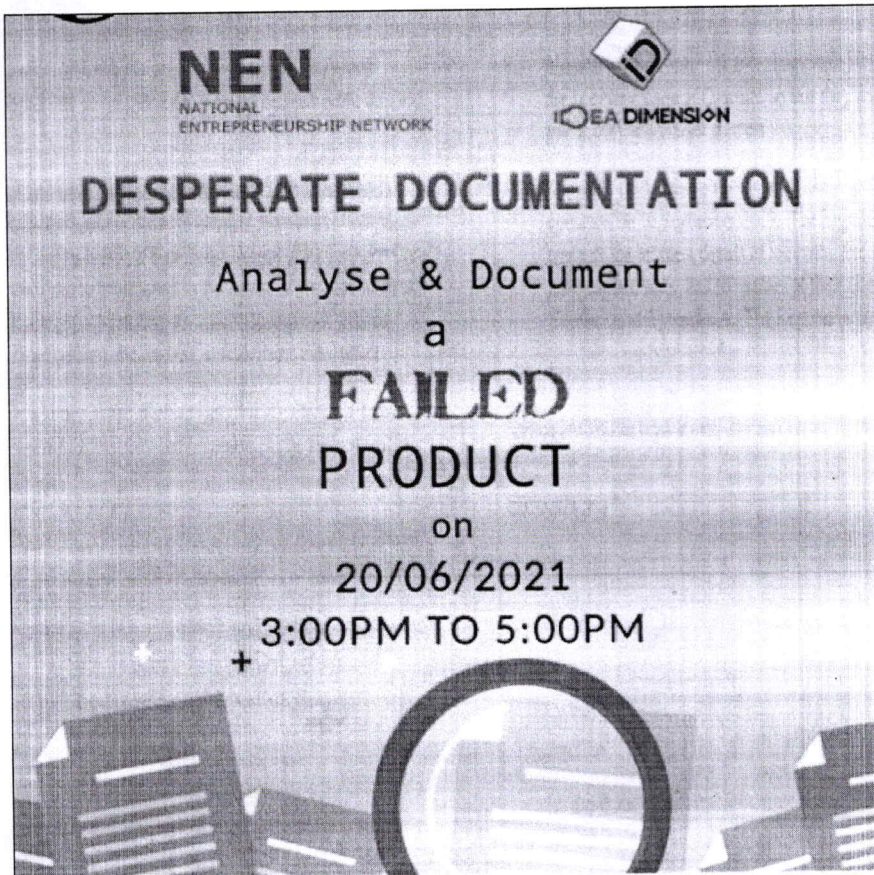

9) Aqsa: Hippo Chips

The unprecedented introduction made for a refreshing start however the explanation was very bookish and boring. Moreover, the candidate only focused on the drawbacks and did not specify what she her solutions would be. No major points except the drawbacks were covered. The conclusion, though brief, was pointless due to the lack of material in the presentation. The document, despite the 55% plagiarism rate, was well-paced and had a couple of solutions which were left untouched during the presentation. The presentation, if done with a more personalized touch, would've fetched more response. A hurried job which had a lot of potential.
